A Few Facts

1907. When the people of this county give, during a period of two years, to one road, calculated to benefit chiefly the town of Wallowa, the sum of $4383.
50, am I not justified in saying that they are not unkind.

And they say that Enterprise controls the court and is using it for its own selfish purposes. That, to me, is the "most unkind" cut of all. I have a very distinct recollection that in the campaign of three years ago I had the misfortune to be a candidate for county Judge. My protestations that I was under no obligations to Enterprise more than to other parts of the county were not believed. I got nearly all the votes in Enterprise, yet I lost.

I have been credibly informed that my defeat was not a personal one, but due to the fact that I lived in Enterprise and was considered Enterprise's candidate. And I have always believed it. Judge Corkin's was Wallowa's candidate, nominated and elected by Wallowa's influence. He lived in Wallowa and was Wallowa's friend.

That he is still her friend is demonstrated by the fact that more money has been appropriated by the court to the roads and bridges of Wallowa precinct and to the roads leading into and chiefly beneficial to the town of Wallowa than has been appropriated to the roads and bridges of any other four precincts in the county.

To say that Enterprise gets favors from the court is unjustified and untrue. Enterprise has never asked for and has never received anything to which she was not entitled.

And the Sun says that, due to the influence of the people of Wallowa, (presumably in the hold up, as aforesaid) the road from Wallowa to the Flora country is shortened nine miles as compared with the present road, and that it is six miles shorter than is the road from Flora to any other town. We would commend to the editor of the Sun the truth of the saving of that eminent American philosopher, Mr.
Josh Billings: "It is better not to know so much than to know so much that is not so."

As a matter of fact the notes of the survey made by the county surveyor show that from Sled Springs to the junction with the old road, the distance is 14 3-8 miles. From that point to Wallowa is approximately 6 miles, making a total of approximately 20 miles.
From Sled Springs to Enterprise, by the section lines is exactly 20 miles.

Now then, we have a road that is practically the same in length, and that is incomparably better and 815 feet less of hill to climb, the altitude of Wallowa being 2935 feet, while that of Enterprise is 3750.

But the Sun, in its attempt to give reasons why the court house should be moved from Enterprise to Wallowa is for the most part so silly and childish that it is not worth while to pay any attention to it.

I hold that this matter should be settled and settled permanently. That it should be settled in that manner which will best serve the interest of the most people. That that town should be the county seat which is most convenient to the most people and at which the county's business can be transacted at the least cost to the tax payers. It is purely a business proposition, affecting the pocket of every tax payer in the county.

Comparing Wallowa with Enterprise as to location how does the record stand? To the people of Lostine, Leap, Mud Creek, Flora, Paradise, Lost Prairie and Grouse it should be a matter of indifference, so far as distance is concerned, each town being equally distant.
The people of Wallowa, Promise, Smith Mountain and Powwaka have to travel the extra distance from Wallowa to Enterprise to reach the county seat.
There were 332 voters registered from those precincts for the last election.
The people of Enterprise, Joseph, Prairie Creek, Trout Creek, Pine Creek, Butte, Eureka, Pittsburg, Innaba, Park and Divide would be obliged to travel the extra distance from Enterprise to Wallowa if Wallowa were the county seat.
From these precincts there were 776 voters registered for the last election.
Now does it look reasonable that the rights of 776 voters should suffer that the interests of 332 should be advanced?
And isn't it a self-evident fact that if the county seat were established at Wallowa, the added cost of maintaining the county government, in the way of increased mileage and per diem would be a heavy penalty upon the tax payers of the county?

And may I add that I trust that nothing I have said will be taken in a personal way. Wallowa is a nice little town. It is prospering and I have faith that it will continue to prosper. It has some of the very best citizens in the county—men I very highly esteem and whose friendship I would not willingly loose. It has had the good fortune to acquire, during the past two years, a large amount of new blood in its business circles. The new men would be a valued acquisition to any community or to any county.
We are glad they have come, but sorry that they did not better inform themselves as to the geography of the county and of the conditions prevailing here before embarking upon what must prove, to them, a disastrous campaign.

As I have said, the people of Enterprise believe that the best interests of the whole county require that this matter be settled and settled permanently. If the people of Wallowa wish to amuse themselves by conducting a campaign in their own interests there is no possible objection that can be urged, provided that in their campaign they will be honest and fair, will not impute to Enterprise things of which she is not guilty, will not endeavor to make capital for herself by creating prejudice against her rival, will not stir up strife which will make impossible that harmony of action which is so essential to the upbuilding of the whole county.

If, after such a campaign sixty per cent of the voters, the number required by law, decree that the county seat shall be removed to Wallowa, Enterprise will submit without a murmur.

But, when we consider that the direct personal interests of a vast majority of the people of the county will be injured by such a removal, we cannot make ourselves believe that there is any danger.

Very respectfully,
A. C. MILLER,
Pres. Enterprise Commercial Club.
